

DTI Reflection of Work Pre-Write

Name: _____ Aileen _____ Class: _____ Art _____ Grade _____ 9th _____

Introduction
Introduce the class, what you do and learn, and why it is valuable for your future.	Our class is art and we do to learn is listen to the teacher describe the values and textures for example light texture and dark texture did a skull rubric and drew in values with textures. This is valuable for our future because if we ever go to a museum and they ask what we know or if we go to another art class we will know
Preview the standard, unit project, or area of learning for the work you are going to present as an artifact	The point of this project is to create values and make your own textures. The standard of the project is to be able to make contrasts.
First Supporting Paragraph
Introduce the first piece of work/ artifact
Describe the assignment/ project	I worked on the project for three weeks. First we made a rough draft with pencil. After the teacher had to print them into two separate papers. After that we used light tables and traced it with pen and all the little details were done. We had to do 20 or more unique textures and 6 or more values. With different contrasts.

Describe the process you went through to succeed	I had to search up different ideas and values. I had to see what I wanted to do in general with my skull if I wanted a full skull half skull a small skull with the body. I had to see what shapes I wanted in them and what kind of contrast.
Explain what you learned or what you learned how to do. What does this work tell you about yourself and how you learn?	I learned to have patients in my project because I needed to draw things better or close to perfect. I also learned that some things don't come out as needed and contrast really matters because if not your project won't be balanced.
Second Supporting Paragraph
Describe two of the SLO you demonstrated in this artifact/ evidence <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Self Directed learner who communicates effectively - Mastering skills needed in career and college - Applying technological skills for the 21st century - Representing self, school and community through personal responsibility and global citizenship - Thinking critically and creatively 	Mastering skills needed in career and college: I believe later in life if I have other classes for art this will help towards my grade. Knowing these things where important because if I ever get a job that involves art I will know what values and textures are. Thinking critically and creatively: In this project I showed what I can do and what represents me as a person. I got to see what texture I like and I was into.
Explain why this artifact/ evidence demonstrated your success in the above two SLO and why the two you demonstrated are important	Mastering skills needed in career and college: I believe later in life if I have other classes for art this will help towards my grade. Knowing these things where important because if I ever get a job that involves art I will know what values and textures are. Thinking critically and creatively: In this project I showed what I can do and what represents me as a person. I got to see what texture I like and I was into.

Explain which SLO you could have demonstrated better in this evidence.	In this project I could have learned to put different values across the whole project but instead I just did it in one place.

Conclusion
Describe two of the most important things you have learned in this class this year	In this class I have learned to do “happy mistakes” which means if anyone makes a mistake to make the mistake something you want. For example if you have a smudge on the middle of a paper draw a flower or a heart instead of whining why it happened. Another thing I have learned this year is to have many patience for things like if something comes out bad in my project I shouldn't get stuck on it I should move on and keep going.
Discuss why the skills you have learned in this class will help you in the future	The skills that I have learned in this class will help me in my future because if I ever make a mistake I will know to try to fix it and make the mistake look pretty. To have patients is a big thing in life if i want to be a detective I have to have many patients for crimes and evidence.
